

Women Count Program

LGC&D formed Women Count to support the growing number of women within LGC&D and the business community. The program is dedicated to promoting and supporting women and their unique needs.

Mission Sta

The Mission of LGC&D Women Count

- To provide resources for the women within LGC&D and the business community, which will enhance the opportunities for all women to reach their full potential.
- To provide a supportive environment for professional women and an open forum to discuss the unique needs of women, resulting in enhanced professional opportunities.
- To grow and strengthen our business relationships with women owned and operated businesses and to support women's initiatives as a whole in the business communities in which we work.

The members of Women Count actively and visibly participate in community programs including charitable events, civic events and other professional activities to promote our commitment to the community and the success of women.

Our Team

LGC&D women professionals are highly motivated, focused women who have strong competencies and are dedicated to both LGC&D and the accounting profession. The members of Women Count include LGC&D principals, senior associates, professional staff and support staff.

Our women professionals enjoy working in a team environment and sharing time, ideas, and inspiration with colleagues, clients and advisors. These dynamic women frequently reach out to other women in the community to meet our client's evolving needs.

Community Involvement

Along with our reputation for hard work and high achievement, the members of Women Count share a deep generosity of spirit and a desire to help and give back to our community. We actively seek out initiatives which allow all of our personnel to contribute directly to our communities, putting work into action.

Our women professionals serve on boards and are involved in civic organizations. We contribute to and participate in many organizations throughout Rhode Island and Massachusetts, supporting many events throughout the New England region.
